BOMBAY PORT TRUST

The following amendments of the Docks Bylaw made by the Trustees of the Port of Bombay under section 73 of the Bombay Port Trust Act, 1879, and approved by the Central Government are published for information in accordance with the provisions of section 74 of the said Act:—

DOCKS BY-LAWS

Add after By-law No. 116, the following new By-law:—

"116-A—Consignments of Petroleum Fuel Oil in bulk and flashing at or above 150°F and consignments of Non-Dangerous Petroleum in bulk having a flash point by Abel's or any other recognised test of 76°F and over, so as not to fall within the definition of "dangerous petroleum" contained in section 2(b) of the Petroleum Act (XXX of 1934), may be shipped into vessels berthed at the Docks Harbour Walls provided that:—

- (a) Tankers in Ballast which have been allotted a berth at the Harbour Wall to receive such shipments will not be allowed to berth at the Harbour Wall unless a certificate signed by the Inspector of Explosives or the Assistant Inspector of Explosives, West Circle, Bombay, is produced to the effect that the vessel is free from dangerous vapour.
- (b) A certificate in the same form as that provided for in By-Law No. III(a) must, in every case, be produced before shipment is effected, certifying that the Petroleum Fuel Oil has its flash point at or above 150°F and that the Non-Dangerous Petroleum has its flash point at or above 76°F and that the latter does not fall within the definition of "dangerous petroleum" contained in section 2(b) of the Petroleum Act (XXX of 1934).
- (c) During all such time as any vessel is receiving such oil into her tanks, the Master or first mate of such vessel shall be present on board and it shall be incumbent upon him to see that these particular regulations are complied with and that all reasonable precautions for safety are observed.
- (d) A ship's officer shall be on watch and an attendant of the Oil Company supplying the oil shall be stationed alongside the flexible connecting pipe while pumping is in progress.
- (e) No fire or lights shall be allowed on any bulk oil vessel, in the Dock or on the adjoining quay, except the galley and engine room fires, electric light and the permanent lamps used for illuminating the Docks.
- (f) No smoking shall be allowed on board of any bulk oil vessel.
- (g) A suitable gutter or other contrivance shall be placed under the connecting service pipe to prevent any oil from dripping on the wharf or into the Dock Basin.
- (h) Before pumping commences, the attendant of the Oil Company supplying the oil shall see that the telephone connection to the Oil Company's Depot is in working order.
- (i) Masters and owners of vessels receiving fuel oil and suppliers of fuel oil shall personally and severally be held liable for any damage whatsoever that shall have been caused to cargo or property belonging to or in charge of the Trustees by any leakage of fuel oil, due to or arising from negligence or any defect in or failure of apparatus or appliances, the property of the vessels or the suppliers.
- (j) No cargo other than steel pipes, iron rails, and similar goods unaffected by oil, shall be allowed on the wharf within 50 feet of the Oil stand pipes, and shed doors immediately behind them shall be kept closed while pumping is in progress.

(k) Every bulk oil vessel while in the Dock shall have steam up in her boilers so as to be ready to move immediately if necessary; and shall move immediately upon an order to that effect from any officer of the Trustees.

(l) Every bulk oil vessel shall leave the Dock immediately on completion of loading."

By order of the Trustees of the Port of Bombay,

S. D. CHITTAR

The 29th September 1956 Secretary, Bombay Port Trust
